Robert Stribling
robertstribling01@gmail.com
7 Tarongo Way, City Beach 6015
+61 (0)412 482 011

Alan Hoban
President, Stormwater Australia
nationalpresident@stormwater.asn.au

Dear President, 11th November 2019

STATEMENT OF INTENT – NOMINATION FOR DIRECTOR

Thank you for the opportunity to nominate for this role.

I believe I have a unique mix of executive, corporate and legal experience, including many years exposure to the resources industry, renewable energy and the environment, a high level of awareness of the importance of water and efficient use of it, current participation in relevant government and local government committees, and current experience as a director on a not-for-profit board.

Until October 2018 and for over 20 years prior to that I occupied a senior executive role as Head of Legal/General Counsel at Eni, a major multinational oil and gas company. During my time with Eni I worked between the Australian, UK and Indonesian offices. I also spent significant periods working in other countries where Eni has operations.

I currently serve as one of two independent non-executive directors on the Board of the Marra Worra Worra Aboriginal Corporation. The corporation is the largest and oldest aboriginal representative body in the Kimberly region of Western Australia, responsible for the governance, leadership and commercial oversight of Aboriginal people in the Fitzroy Valley, with a critical role in securing the living standards and well-being of the people.

I have extensive experience serving on committees with a broad range of responsibilities in the corporate sector, and more recently with government as a member of the steering committee for the replenishment of Perry Lakes in the Town of Cambridge in Perth. This committee is tasked with the restoration and replenishment of water sources for Perry Lakes and its surrounds, (including the re-routing of stormwater) and environmental, social and community initiatives. I have also recently been appointed to the Contaminated Sites Committee Panel of Names by the Western Australian Government Department of Water and Environmental Regulation. The Committee is a statutory body with formal decision-making powers.

Similarly, I have extensive experience in senior management, advising boards, compliance and corporate governance. I have a well-developed network in both law and commerce and a strong understanding of corporate operations, management systems, compliance and the expectations of Boards in respect of each of these. With respect to these expectations, I would highlight the following elements of my skill set – a strong record in corporate leadership and development of corporate culture, daily involvement in regulatory and corporate governance and compliance, significant experience in government relations, well developed negotiation and communication skills, acknowledged commitment to mentorship and people development and front line responsibility for anti-bribery and corruption and ethics.

Yours Sincerely
Robert Stribling